The Bulletin's Daily Budget From the Sister Town

Strathcona, June 5.—Dr. and Mrs. Marion, of Strathcona, left town on the 4 p.m. C. and E. train en route for Chicago, where the doctor intends to take a post graduate course at the Chicago College of Dental Surgery. The doctor has been very successful in the practice of his profession here and intends returning here after completing his course of study.

The late electric light plant of the town, consisting of boiler, generator, engine, switchboard, etc., were removed from the old power house yesterday and loaded on a car ready to be shipped to Mr. Higman, of Port Saskatchewan, who lately purchased the outfit from the town council.

Mr. J. C. Coulson, of West Railway street, purchased a carload of horses from Mr. Brown, of Calgary. Thereafter have 20 horses in the bunch, which were come from the west and are mostly saddle and driving horses.

Mr. David Fraser, provincial boiler inspector, leaves to-morrow for Stony Plain and Stony Grove districts on his regular inspection tour.

This was a busy day at court, as four cases were up before Justice Ritchie and Connolly. Joseph Carling came up before Justice Ritchie charged with creating a disturbance. He pleaded guilty and was fined $1 and costs, $5 in all.

Frank Dolge, Edward Cummings and L. D. Scott were each fined $1 and costs for leaving their horses unsecured, contrary to the town by-law.

Dr. D. C. Fletcher appeared before Justice Ritchie and Connolly charged by Chief Patterson with refusing to help him, when asked to arrest Angus McRae. Mr. Fletcher was fined $1 and costs.

Mr. J. McLeish, proprietor of the Dominion Hotel, was charged by Mr. F. W. Burch with assault without justification therefor on the verandah of the Dominion Hotel. Solicitors Mode and Grant, of the firm of Rutherford & Jamieson, appeared for Mr. Burch, while Mr. McLeish pleaded his own case. George Williamson, farmer, of Birch Lake, Thomas Trosden, bartender at the Dominion, Edward Duggan, Wm. Ferrier and F. A. Brown gave evidence, much of which was of a spicy and interesting nature. The justice ordered the court to be cleared and behind closed doors carefully considered the evidence and fined defendant $1 and costs.

The Strathcona board of trade met last evening in the town hall and considerable business of importance came up for discussion. The following delegates were chosen to represent the Strathcona board at the approaching convention of the Provincial Association to be held at Edmonton this month: Messrs. Sheppard, Bush, Cluff and Macdonald.

Work on the town public works was largely suspended to-day owing to the action of the Galeatica, who went on strike for more pay. We understand Messrs. Ditz and Main have offered them a substantial increase, which it is thought will bring several back to work to-morrow morning.

The C. M. R. under Major Jamieson, will parade to-night in their new uniforms.

Messrs. Phoebe and Eaton have the contract to erect a new solid brick residence on Main street near Saskatchewan avenue, for Mr. R. B. Douglas. The cost will be about $4000.

Messrs. Fraser Bros. contractors, have now down the C. M. R. to Mundare to erect a four mill for Mr. G. A. Verner, of Mundare.

Norris and Rowe's circus and menagerie will exhibit in Strathcona on Tuesday, June 19th.

The town council proposes to purchase ten acres at the southwest corner of the town for a public park.

Strathcona, June 5.—The Strathcona Public Hospital is situated a few streets south of Whyte avenue and east of the new Duggan street school, and has land in connection with it, no doubt, if the hospital remains on the present site, will be qualified by trees and lawns. Miss Pfeiffer is the matron in charge and she has an able assistant in nurse Miss Vance, both Montreal ladies who are doing good work in the interests of suffering humanity.

The physicians of the town visit the institution monthly in rotation. To Dr. Archibald much credit is due for his aid in the inception and formation of the first hospital in Strathcona.

Messrs. C. M. Murray and Mr. Spohn, who have been at the Alberta here for some time, left this morning to join the C.N.R. construction gang now operating in that district. They purpose to secure homesteads and become permanent settlers.

Mr. Robert Turnbull and party have just returned from a prospecting tour in the White Lake district.

Mr. W. R. Rankin, Macdonald avenue, came in from the south to-day on the 3.30 p.m. C. & E. train from a business tour.

Mr. Ed. Lyne, of the Gainer Meat Co., came in from the south on the 3.30 train. Mr. Lyne left town May 25th with a couple of cars of hogs en route for Vancouver. He reports business good in the Pacific Province, and an increasing demand for Alberta hogs. Squadron "B." C. M. R., under Major Jamieson, paraded last evening at the armory about 40 strong. They had their new uniforms on for the first time and are a splendid body of active men, and soon to adapt themselves and horses readily to military drill.

Mr. Frank Ryan, wife and family, who have a farm near Edson, left this afternoon for Michel, B. C., where they expect to remain for some time.

Mr. Tuttle, of the Pembina district, expect to remain for some time.

Messrs. Crawford & Weeks, real estate, yesterday sold 216 lots in the township known as Hazelden, being part of the old Tuttle farm south of the town limits. This is an indication of the real estate business in town.

NOT SATISFIED WITH THE GOVERNMENT

Birmingham, June 6.—Joseph Chamberlain, Tory leader, was the guest of honor at a garden party here tonight and made a sensational attack on the Liberal Government and Premier Campbell-Bannerman. He declared that no Government in the history of the British Empire had done so much mischief in a four months period. He declared Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman to be incompetent and showed his hatred to be prepared to participate in a general election next spring.

RUSSIAN SAILORS ON STRIKE

Odesa, June 6.—The strike of seamen is becoming critical. Many vessels are unable to leave port and are under protection of military guards as the strikers threaten to set fire to the port and blow up the foreign ships' berths. It is being to have international complications arise. Strikers are in an ugly mood owing to the fact that the companies are endeavoring to secure seamen from outside ports to man their ships.

Ties Piled on the Track Near Almonte—Engineer Prevented Catastrophe

Almonte, Ont. June 6.—An attempt was made today to wreck a C.P.R. passenger train by a large heap of ties piled on the track. The engineer fortunately saw the obstruction in time to prevent a calamity.

C.N.R. BUYS RIGHT OF WAY

Virden, Man., June 1.—There is every prospect of the Canadian Northern starting work at once on the extension of their Brandon-Hartney line to Regina. It is understood that Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann have been waiting until they could get their bonds guaranteed by the Federal Government. Although no announcement to that effect has been made as yet, it appears that the necessary arrangements have been given to the Canadian Northern Railway magnates that the required guarantee will be passed before the close of the present session.

The right-of-way agent of the C. N. R. started out along the extension last week and has already succeeded in securing the right of way from the owners of the land as far as the junction at Searth. The price ranged from $12 to $50 an acre and was considered very fair to the farmers who sold, for it will not only give improved transportation facilities, but will add much in the way of drainage to some of the farms through which it passes, and the general value of the land will be thereby much increased.

The big orders of steel by the C. N. R. at the Soo are regarded as meaningful that the work will be proceeded immediately. It is considered possible that if large gangs of men are put on the line that the whole line into Regina, not more than 150 miles in all, will be completed this fall. The right of way agent is now reported to be working further west in the Saskatchewan country. Mr. James, the Winnipeg general superintendent, is expected here in a day or two and will probably take a trip over the route as surveyed.

MONTREAL RACE SUICIDE

Montreal, June 4.—The Standard, a local Sunday paper, after an investigation of Montreal apartment houses, makes charges of race suicide against the fashionable dwellers. In one of the swiftest houses, where fifty families live, there are no children, and in another there are eight little ones for seventy families. In a house standing side by side and containing two or three-room flats, three children were found. "The same story is to be told," says the Standard, "in the high class residential flat, where all the service is provided and catering is done on the premises. 'It gives a black eye to a house to have a lot of youngsters running about.' I was informed by a janitor of one of our up-town apartment houses; it keeps the best people away." The "best people" I wonder, perhaps, who they may be? And such houses in metropolitan areas are the mecca of the light to the so-called up-to-date young matron. Fancy finding fifty families in one apartment house and no children, not a single lot in these so-called fifty homes. Yet is a fact in an up-to-date apartment house in Montreal, a building that had suites of rooms ranging from $50 to $100 a year. In another up-to-date district a house was chanced upon which had in the vicinity of twenty small homes, and in all there were eight children. In six other houses side by side, containing twelve seven-room flats renting from $400 to $700 a year, there were three children. When people can pay such amounts as the above for rent it is fairly safe to assume that they can afford having children if they want them. A rather poor prospect, is it not, for the future of the English-speaking Canadian nation, especially when the liners from over the seas are arriving almost daily with families of anywhere from five to fifteen children.

$WANT THE U. S. TO INTERFERE

New York, June 7.—That a deliberate attempt is to be made by the present government of Panama to perpetuate itself, no matter to what lengths of fraud is necessary to go with the coming elections, is the assertion of a committee of representative residents of that republic who arrived here today on the steamer Alliance from Colon. The committee comprise Gen. D. Diaz, Dr. P. Arosemena, E. A. Morales, and E. Parros, all of whom are leaders of the so-called Liberal or Reform party of Panama. The object of their visit to this country at this time is to urge President Roosevelt to interfere in Panama so that an honest election can be secured. Dr. Arosemena, who is to be leader of the party while here, said tonight, "All we ask is that the purity of these ballot boxes be respected. There is no reason to doubt, and we will prove it to the satisfaction of the president, that the present government of Panama is the most corrupt in Central America, and that but a very small minority of the people are in sympathy with it. We are here as representatives of the greater part of the people to show that the party in power is making every effort to retain control of all the machinery of the government. They have posted what they term a list of persons entitled to vote at the coming election, and nearly all are those of men not qualified to vote, while the names of the members of the Liberal party have been intentionally omitted. We representatives of the Liberal element are anxious to make Panama a representative republic, and not one of the kind all the world believes those in South and Central America to be. We want the will of the majority to prevail. All that we ask is a fair and square election and if we are beaten we will be willing to abide by the result.

HAND BROKEN UP

Lethbridge, Alta., June 1.—The famous "Jack Sully" band of outlaws, which operated all through Saskatchewan, Alberta, the Yukon and northern British Columbia, has been broken up, according to reports sent the Western Stock Association, eight of the bandits receiving long penitentiary sentences at the last term of the federal court at Lethbridge, S.D. The band was originally founded and headed by Jack Sully, a Canadian from near Hamilton, Ont. Sully's true name was said to be Arthur McDonald, and he was a college graduate, and a man of education. However he came "west" got mixed up in a number of cattle deals and finally marrying an Indian squaw, became one of the most expert "cattle rustlers" in the west. He himself was killed two years ago while heading a raid of monger proportions—what was to have been his last raid.

"RECREATION" FOR JUNE

The June number of this magazine deserves special mention. The illustrations, have been selected and placed by an expert. The make-up of the magazine as a whole in much superior to what it has been in the past; the articles and stories are a better selection and edited with more skill, and the cover design for the first time takes rank with those of the best magazines. In all it is a clever piece of magazine-making. The cover design by Frank Tenney Johnson, is in full color. The leading article, "With the Frogs in Arizona," by Julia A. Dinnoch, relates much of interest about the Navajo Indians and is illustrated with remarkably good photographs. George Carling's article, "Tryng Out a Motor Car," while instructive is at the same time a good story. There are two illustrations from Photographs. "Galling on the Marshy Bleds," by Bonnydale Dale, is the story of the author's photographing and shore birds of Canada; it is illustrated with excellent photographs of the wild birds. "Girls on a round-up," Florence S. Dubois relates the experiences of herself and her girl friends when they accompanied the cowboys of a Montana ranch on a round-up. In "The Shale, the Highly Interesting," Walter C. O. O'Kane tells of a canoe cruise down the famous Au Sable River, in Michigan. Illustrating his text from photographs taken on the trip, "Salmon Fishing Made Easy," by John O'Donnell, tells just when, where and how to catch salmon at a comparatively small expense. "A Swing Around Vermont," by Edward Cave is the story of the author's experience when he visited the game wardens of the Great Mountain State in February. "The Williams River Country," by Andrew Price, tells about the wilderness that remains in West Virginia, and in "Adventures and Misadventures of a Salmon Angler," Charles A. Bramble narrates experiences he has had in Northern Wilderness.

SUPERFLOUS ASSURANCE

A delegation of Spanish statesmen waited on Queen Ena and expressed their confidence that Alfonso will make a model husband. This may have been well enough for Alf. If he fails to make good he can deny responsibility for the forecast. It may have been well enough for the statesmen. If he fails to make good they can deny responsibility for his failure to live up to the forecast. But as an assurance to Ena, it was altogether superfluous. If either her loving husband or his advisers imagine the Queen is heaping her expectations for Alf's good behavior on the assurances or prophecies of any deputy there is a badly deluded Spaniard somewhere about the place. Ena is an Anglo-Saxon of the approved blue-eyed, square-jawed brand and it is a safe guess that she did not marry Alfonso on any uncertain or equivocal declaration of matrimonial policy, less still because a troop of grey-haired Grandees have confidence in his behaving himself. Alfonso has committed himself in language which will be neither forgotten nor forgiven. And if he departs from the plain meaning of this announced program the courteous assurances of the Spanish statesmen will not be the remarks which are quoted for his edification.

THE SEWER EXTENSION

As reported in yesterday's Bulletin, the city council do not purpose authorizing a by-law to authorize the issue of debentures for water and sewer extensions. The clause under which the city solicitor says that the council has power to issue debentures without submitting a by-law to the ratepayers is sub-clause 3 of clause 3, title XXXV, page 99. It reads as follows:

"That it shall not be necessary to obtain the assent of ratepayers to the passing of any by-law for raising such portion of the costs as is to be borne by the municipality at large of an extension of a municipal system of sewage originally constructed as a local improvement or of any other local improvement unless in the case of such other local improvement the share of cost to be borne by the municipality at large shall be greater than can be properly paid out of the current revenue of the city for the current year."

According to the wording of this clause there can be no reasonable doubt that the city council has the legal right to proceed with the construction of the proposed sewer extension or any other sewer extension they may see fit to undertake, without consulting the ratepayers or securing their permission to issue debentures. The sewer system is specifically mentioned as the one local improvement which can be so extended.

In the present instance there is no necessity to inquire whether it was wise to make this exception to the general rule, nor to urge that the council should forego the privilege and submit a by-law. The new trunk sewer system is an admitted necessity, and a necessity which should be neither postponed nor delayed. There has been no opposition apparent to the proposal to build the sewer, and were it submitted and defeated it would not be defensible because the ratepayers doubted the necessity of the undertaking nor because they were unwilling to advance the money for the enterprise, but because of lack of confidence in the official head of the public works department.

That the council has the power to carry out the will of the people without consulting the people transfers from the people to the council the full responsibility for the proper accomplishment of the enterprise. To meet this responsibility the council should take no chance either in the plans or in the supervision of the work. The plans should have the ratification of the best available engineering authority, and the work should be directed and supervised by an official of unquestioned ability, experience and integrity.

Not only should this be done, but the public should understand that it is being done. There is now no popular opposition to the enterprise and if it is properly undertaken and completed there will be little complaint because the council exerted its legal authority and waived the formality of an unnecessary vote to prosecute a badly needed improvement.

FORBID!

The Winnipeg Telegram is pleased to be facetious over the contention of the Minister of the Interior that it is not necessary that the reports of land agents be reproduced verbatim in the annual departmental report and insists that these should be printed in toto, regardless of their length or merit or of the expense involved. The Telegram probably understands, as everyone else does, that the compilation of the voluminous annual reports of the various departments are not and could not be personally supervised by the Ministers in charge of the Departments and that while the responsibility for such reports rests on the heads of the departments, the actual work of detailed preparation is and necessarily must be left to officials of the departments. It follows that whatever sins of omission or commission may be found in such details are evidences not of the personal predilection or had judgment of the Ministers themselves but of the misunderstanding or misinterpretation by the departmental officials of the general instructions under which they compile the reports.

This ordinary business course under such circumstances would be to instruct the official preparing the annual report to include therein such original reports of officials as were of value either in information or suggestion and to discard those which were worthless. Not so with the Telegram. It would reprint the essays in full, however long they might be, however little either of information or suggestion they might contain, and however much the country might have to pay for their publication. The immediate consequence would be that the annual reports, already sufficiently bulky, would swell in magnitude until they must be published in sets instead of volumes. And the trouble would increase with the passing of the years. "The pleasant sure to see one's name in print," especially at the end of a formidable looking article on a subject the writer professes to understand. Every civil servant would consider himself as failing in his duty to his fellows if he did not give them the benefit of his elongated opinions; and every occupant of a public office would feel himself of secondary consequence if his published views did not exceed in measurement the printed cogitations of his fellow office-holders.

The consequences of this literary rivalry might well be cause for apprehension alike for those whose occupations require them to pursue the annual reports, and for the people, who must provide the paper, type and wages for their publication. We would be the last to cast a stumbling block in the already rugged pathway of the aspiring literateur. We profess a kindly feeling for the printer and the allied trades. But there is a limit to all things and not even our regard for these worthy classes of society would reconcile us to the proposal to deliver our sanity over to the custody of an innumerable company of ambitious essayists, and the revenues of the country to the coffers of the king's printer.

SIFTON REPLIES TO CRITICS

Reviews the Land and Immigration Policy of the Present and Former Governments

Ottawa, May 31.—High-water mark in the debating annals of the present session was reached today on the Government's land policy. Necessarily from his long administration of the Interior Department Hon. Clifford Sifton had been made the chief object of the Opposition attacks. Today the ex-Minister broke his long silence in a lengthy speech, the excellence of which even drew congratulations from Mr. Foster. Mr. Sifton was thoroughly at home in his subject, and the defence he offered was complete and convincing. As he reviewed the tangles in which he found western affairs in 1906 and then turned to the successful administration since that date, he roused frequent cheers on the Government benches. Both sides of the House listened with the greatest attention throughout the long exposition of the Government's position. One of Mr. Sifton's most telling references was to the purchase of 250,000 acres by the Saskatchewan Valley Land Company, whose enterprise had made the desert blossom as the rose, at the same time the conditions imposed being so onerous that 100,000 acres of the purchase had not yet been earned. Mr. Foster followed, but he had previously covered much of the same ground and his speech failed to rouse much enthusiasm.

Hon. Mr. Sifton, in opening said he had not obtruded himself on the House for some time, not having anything special to say and believing that unnecessary verbosity did not conduce to the efficient transaction of business. When the present session came around he had had under consideration private matters, which, if carried to the conclusion to which they had seemed to tend, would, in all probability have resulted in his early retirement from political life. But the Opposition sought political advantage out of his administration of the Department of the Interior, hence it became his duty to meet the statements in debate. He did not believe the Opposition hopes would be realized. He believed their present attitude was simply a continuation of the fatuous policy which had resulted in the annihilation of the Conservative party in Western Canada for more than a decade. He was glad to see interest in the west had grown for he could remember when he could scarcely get a quorum to pass the western estimates. He craved the pardon of the present Minister of the Interior if he seemed to usurp his position, because most of the attacks were on acts during his administration. Mr. Borden had complained of the increase in the power of the Minister of the Interior, but he (Mr. Sifton) was not aware there had been any great secret about the amendments to the land act. Previous to 1891 the crying cry was 'no more land' the Department of the Interior was that it was a department of delay, a department of circumlocution, a department which tried men to death who sought to do business with it. One early step had been the abolition of the land board at Winnipeg and the centralization of the business at Ottawa. Another step was to relieve the council of details of the Interior Department which they did not want to be bothered with, hence the passing of the order granting more power to the Minister of the Interior.

Other regulations made it easier for men who had exhausted the homestead right to get land at $1 or $1.50 per acre. That had made prosperous citizens of many who otherwise would have been outcasts and who were the last men in the world who could pay a high price. "My policy was never to get the highest price for the land," said Mr. Sifton. "It was rather to settle the land, believing that was the best policy to promote the prosperity of the country." (Applause.) The charge of undue secrecy in the Department of the Interior affairs, Mr. Sifton said was a strange one. He had never during his eight or nine years in the department suggested to any official that the degree of secrecy appertaining to the business of the department should be increased, nor had he withheld information in consideration of his estimates in connection with the House nor in connection with inquiries before committees of the House. He had never been in the committee room with one of his officials when he was being examined, and he always told his officials to go and give all the information that was asked. He took full responsibility for the grazing regulations. In his judgment it was sound public policy. He believed that they would save soil unfit for farming from becoming arid and useless, as a large area of Montana had become. Western ranchers had invested large sums in the cattle business under the grazing regulations and had increased the export trade of Canada. "I do not know what else there is in allowing these people to buy enough land to keep their cattle from starving," said Mr. Sifton, amid applause.

What had been the policy of the old Government? He had before him a list of grants of large areas actually given away to cold-blooded speculators ranging in size from 1,290 to 20,000 acres. The Opposition had talked about those things as if he, (the speaker) were going to run away. "I will not run away and get frightened in connection with any transaction I have ever been in." (Applause.) Mr. Oliver's statement of the Conservative policy in regard to timber limits last night had shown it to have been the most scandalous and outrageous alienation of public property that ever took place on this continent. There had been 29,000 square miles of land, of which 23,000 miles had been given away for nothing. That would make a strip of timber 100 miles wide from Ottawa to Toronto. Reference had been made to Mr. Burrows securing timber limits because he was the speaker's brother-in-law, and there had been a family grudge. No family grudge had ever taken place while he was Minister of the Interior. (Applause.) "So far as Mr. Burrows is concerned, he never got one single favor that any other man could not get under the regulations of the department. (Applause.) Mr. Burrows has been a lumberman for twenty years and he got lumber limits from the late Conservative Government, but he got them for nothing." (Applause.) "Timber limits," Mr. Sifton went on, "were disposed of by the present Government by public competition after public advertisement. If a man wanted to escape the criticism of honorable gentlemen opposite or to secure their commendation, the best course to pursue was to do absolutely nothing." (Hear, hear.)

He was glad to have seen Mr. Borden at the recent Forestry Convention, but for years past the Opposition had obstructed the miserable little vote of $15,000 which he had asked for planting trees in the Northwest. The timber policy of the department had been enlightened and efficient by which they

HORRIBLE STREET CAR DISASTER

Providence, June 4.—A wreck occurred yesterday on the suburban line of the Rhode Island Company, a corporation which controls practically all the street railway lines in the state. The motorman in charge of the car W. J. Laucher, of Oliveville, was unfamiliar with the road over which he was travelling. Laucher was put in charge of the car at the solicitation of the passengers, members of the Catholic Society which had been to Green Park for an outing. The car an open one, of heavy build was crowded with young men and women. The members of the party were plunging gaily as the car sped along towards Moore's Corner where Warren and Pawtucket avenues cross. This avenue is midway between Providence and Riverside, and is about six miles distant from the city. At the corner the track curves sharply at the foot of a long, but not particularly heavy grade. Fog prevented a clear view of the road ahead, and the electric arc lamp at the corner is said to have been hardly visible at one o'clock this morning. The hour at which the accident happened. The motorman, unable to see far in front of the car, and unaware of the sharp curve below, allowed the car to coast rapidly down the hill. The first intimation of the accident was when the motorman felt the car awing into the curve. Realizing the peril he applied the brakes and reversed the power. The weight of a number of men on the running board and the momentum sufficed to derail the great car and throw it into the road 29 feet from the track, where it fell on its side between a tree and a guide post. Seven of the passengers were plucked beneath the car, and instantly killed. Shouts and groans of others gave indications of terrible injuries. Immediately those who escaped with little or no injury began the work of rescue. A large log was used as a lever, a pile of stones forming a fulcrum, and the car was raised from the ground just enough to permit the escape of its imprisoned passengers. Two persons had succeeded in escaping when the log broke under the weight of the car, and the vehicle fell back to the ground, plucking two more passengers beneath its weight and killed them instantly. The rescuers again raised the car from the ground, and by building a pile of heavy stones kept it in position while the dead and injured were removed. In the meantime physicians and ambulances had been summoned from Providence, and Riverside. The home of Seth Wood, who had been one of the leaders in the rescue work, was turned into a temporary hospital, and the victims of the wreck were carried into the dwelling. These more seriously hurt were brought to a hospital here. Two of the injured, John Gavin and George Alchison, both of whom had sustained fractured skulls, died within an hour.

The news of the accident spread rapidly through Oliveville and Thornton, and relatives and friends flocked to the scene. Motorman Laucher was not arrested. The police authorities said that he was not guilty of negligence, in their opinion, inasmuch as he was unfamiliar with the line and did not know of the curve.

WALKED OUT OF POLICE STATION
 U. Calgary, June 4.—Robert Cuthbertson, who was arrested May 26th, charged with forgery, made a rather sensational escape from the city police station last night.

Cuthbertson was not locked in his cell, but was given the privilege of using the corridor. At five minutes past 12 o'clock last night, Constable Mackie, who was on duty in the station at the hour, went into the new addition to the station to inspect and see if the prisoners required anything.

As soon as he passed Cuthbertson the prisoner made a quick run for the outer office, closing and locking the two doors behind him. Mackie at once commenced to use his police whistle, with the result that in a short time a passer-by opened the jail doors and released him.

He at once notified the other policemen and when the train for the east left at 12:35 there were present at the depot looking for Cuthbertson Polhemus, Hardie, Fraser, Wilson, Matheson and Mackie (C.P.R.). Constable Fisher was also giving assistance. Three of the men went to the east yard to see that he did not get on the train there.

As soon as possible after the escape all the conductors in charge of trains leaving the city were given a description of the missing man. It is hardly possible that he can leave the city without being captured.
 The description of the man as given by the police is as follows:

Age 35 years, height 5 feet, 9 inches, weight 160 lbs., erect figure, long sharp face, long sharp nose, dark eyes, hair, about ten days' growth of beard on face, and speaks with American accent.
 Cuthbertson was dressed in a dark tweed suit with faint light stripes, and wore a black felt hat.

WHAT ABOUT THE REWARDS.

Calgary, June 4.—This Calgary member of the B.N.W.M.P. who took part in the Kamloops robbery trial returned to the city on Sunday morning. The police received a very flattering reception in Kamloops and to them is given the credit of the speedy capture of the three desperadoes who are now serving terms in the British Columbia penitentiary.

How the rewards will be divided up is a matter of conjecture. With the rewards which were offered for the Mission Junction robbery, and for the capture of Bill Miner, the capture that was made should mean about $15,000 to some person or persons.

That the police who actually put the desperadoes under arrest, and after a strenuous time too, should receive the lion's share of the reward no person doubts.

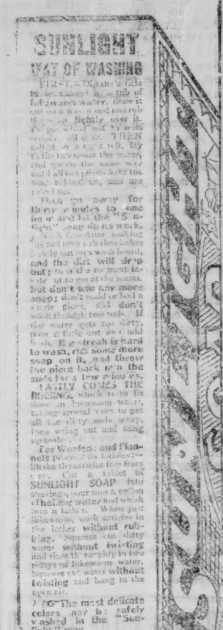

But the police are not in the habit of receiving rewards. Whether this regulation or custom prevents them from receiving rewards offered by institutions other than the Dominion Government is not just settled. There seems to be nothing to prevent them from receiving the rich rewards offered by the Provincial Government, from the C. P. R., and from the United States railways, which have offered rewards for the capture of Bill Miner.

WESTERN CROP PROMISING.

Montreal, June 6.—Robt. McElhen, of the Lake of the Woods Milling Co., returned from the west yesterday and says that the wheat crop is as far advanced as it was this time last year, and that the acreage is fifteen per cent in advance of last year in the three Northwest Provinces. There are 200 men at work on the company's new mill at Keewatin and the concrete elevators are being built on the solid rock. When the plant is finished this will be the largest mill centre in Canada.
